TOBACCO AVERAGE JUMPS TO $32.40

Much Guessing As To Amount of Weed Outside Pool That Will Be Sold

Tobacco continued to sell well at the Home Warehouse Friday. A total of 127,000 pounds went under the hammer with no rejections. The average for the day is reported as $32.40, a slight gain over the opening days average.

There are about a dozen wagons yet waiting to be unloaded at the warehouse.

Much speculation is being indulged in as to just how much unpooled tobacco will be sold here. The Danville warehouse is advertising that it will open for sales Monday, and it will undoubtedly receive what little is outside the pool in that section. One Lexington house is selling, but reports from Fayette are that there is very little weed there outside the pool. The managements of all the houses are announcing that they do not desire any pooled tobacco brought in by anyone, and that they will refuse to sell it if they are aware that it has been signed up in the pool.

FIRST CHRISTIANS HAVE $10,000 BUDGET

Fifty men constituted a dinner party Friday night at the First Christian church in the "set-up" for the annual "Every Member Canvass" which will take place Sunday. This has become an annual event of importance in the program of this local church. The entire church budget for the year is raised on Sunday afternoon between two and five o'clock. The Board is recommending a budget this year of more than $10,000 for the carrying forward of the growing work of this church, which is one of the leading ones of the denomination in the south.

An effort is being made to have every member of the church in a service Sunday morning at which time the members of the teams will be presented. Among those serving on the teams are J. W. Hamilton, Robert Ramsey, Jack Wagers, John Allman, Jack Lackey, Bennett Farris, Arthur Todd, W. S. Broadbush, Frank Devore, Will Millard, J. R. Robinson, T. S. Hagan, J. W. Arnold, George Simmons, Ballard Luxon, H. L. Perry, J. J. Neale, Burt Johnson, R. E. Baker, T. H. Collins, J. L. Matherly, P. M. Pope, G. C. Stocker, M. L. Donivan, Paul Burnam, L. P. Todd, W. L. Arnold, Edward Stockton, Marshall Brock, Luther Powell, R. L. Doty, Lewis Neale, Edgar Doty, Henry Conn, Neville Witt, J. C. Ballard, Elmer Deatherage, Z. T. Rice, Willis Kennedy, Ed Carson, Jesse Dykes, R. W. Colyer, J. R. McKinney, Allen Douglas, C. E. Douglas, Jacob Shearer and Jesse Bowman.

The members of the congregation are being asked to remain at home on Sunday afternoon until they are reached by the teams and this is expected to be the most successful canvass in the history of the church. This method of financing the church was introduced four years ago and has more than doubled the operating capacity of the institution.

The dinner Friday night was served by the Woman's committee under the direction of Mrs. Arthur Todd as chairman, assisted by Mrs. R. C. Stockton, Mrs. Charles Higgins, Mrs. G. B. Turley, Jr., Mrs. Lena Dickerson, Mrs. S. K. Dudderer, Mrs. R. C. Lackey, Mrs. Jack Wagers, Mrs. J. R. Quisenberry, Mrs. H. W. Carpenter and Mrs. S. P. Deatherage.

NEALE DELIVERS CATTLE TO WEIL

Eighty fine, corn-fed fat steers purchased by J. Weil from Lewis N. Neale about two months ago were delivered to the buyer here Saturday morning. Weil paid $8 for them with the understanding that Mr. Neale was to feed them corn for two months. As a result they averaged 1,544 pounds when they went over the scales. Mr. Weil says that he expects to see cattle feeders make more money on their heaves than they lost this year.

DR. THOMPSON HERE SUNDAY NIGHT

The uptown churches will unite in a great union service Sunday night at the First Christian church. This will be the closing service of the season which the churches have had together during the last three weeks and gives promise of being one of the greatest services in the year. Dr. J. L. Thompson, of Georgetown, will be the speaker. Dr. Thompson is widely known in the south as a very effective speaker. A special feature of the meeting will be a great closing song service under the leadership of Mr. Watson, who has endeared himself to so many people while in Richmond. The choir of the city and all those who have sung under his leadership during his stay in Richmond, will sing.

CENTRE TEAM ON WAY TO COAST

Danville, Dec. 17—A record crowd turned out at Danville station Friday evening to bid the Colonels "goodbye and good luck" on their Western invasion. Student Manager McGee received a telegram from the athletic authorities of St. Louis University inviting the Centre party to be their guests at breakfast Saturday morning. McGee immediately wired the team's acceptance.

Another wire was received from the Kentucky Society of St. Louis requesting the Colonels to change their plans and spend an entire day in the city as their guests. This coming at the late hour, prevented an acceptance. Moran's men will arrive in St. Louis at 7 o'clock and will have only two hours stop over there.

No practice was held Friday afternoon as the men were busy packing.

FOUR DISTRICTS TO HANDLE WAREHOUSES

Burley Association Divides Up
State and Asks House Owners
To Give Figures, Etc

According to plans adopted Thursday, the Burley Tobacco Growers' Co-operative Association at Lexington Friday, divided Kentucky into four warehouse districts and made separate districts of Ohio and Indiana, at the same time calling meetings in the Kentucky districts to which warehousemen of Ohio and Indiana are invited.

At Carrollton next Tuesday warehousemen of the Northern Kentucky and Indiana district will meet at 1 o'clock in the afternoon. Wednesday morning at 11 o'clock, warehousemen of the Western Kentucky district will meet at Shelbyville. Thursday Ohio warehousemen will join those of the Eastern Kentucky district in at meeting at Maysville at 10:30 o'clock in the morning, and Friday morning at nine o'clock the warehousemen of the Central Kentucky district will meet at the association offices in Lexington. The other meetings are to be held in the court houses in the towns in which they are called.

Warehouse Manager Ralph M. Barker, in a letter sent to every warehouse company, asks that the following requirements be fully complied with by all the warehousemen who attend the meetings:

1. Have a meeting of all your stockholders and directors and authorize some one to act for your company. Bring a copy of the minutes of your board of directors showing this authority.

2. Have a copy of your title or deed, and a description of the property, showing type of construction and capacity.

3. Have a financial statement indicating worth and any liens or mortgages.

4. Have a statement showing whether stockholders are farmers, merchants, bankers or otherwise.

5. Do you want to sell or rent? Both Warehouse Manager Barker and Aaron Sapiro, California lawyer who drew the contract under which the association was organized, will attend the meetings of the warehousemen called for next week. They will report back to a meeting of the board of directors December 23.

"It is the desire of the association," said Manager Barker, "to reach as quickly as possible a fair valuation of the warehouse properties and at these meetings we shall endeavor to arrive at a basis of mutually satisfactory adjustment."

BOMB PLOT HEAD CAUGHT IN WARSAW

Burns Says This Fellow Knows
All About Red Activities in This Country

(By Associated Press)
Washington, Dec. 17—The arrest in Warsaw of Wolfe Lindenfeld will clear up the entire mystery of the Wall Street explosion on September 16, 1920, was stated positively today by William J. Burns, head of the Department of Justice Bureau of Investigation. Lindenfeld, whose arrest was reported to the Department by the Associated Press, is described by Burns as the key to the solution of the mystery and "the only man we know in the world that knows all about it."

Burns said Lindenfeld was not implicated in the explosion, which was one of the worst tragedies in New York, but was so close to the radical elements who were its perpetrators, that he knew about it. The Third International, Burns said, was the moving spirit behind the plot. Lindenfeld, according to Burns, went abroad originally on behalf of the Department of Justice to obtain information which would lead to the arrest of those responsible for the explosion. When no reports were received from him, Burns said Sylvester Cosgrove, one of the Department's agents, was sent over to learn why and the arrest followed. Radicals in Europe as well as the United States, Burns asserted, are under surveillance and if the information obtained from Lindenfeld proves true, arrests are in imminent prospect.

WOUNDED STUDENT IS TAKEN HOME

News comes from Berea that Lawrence Williams, shot by guards, while attempting to take $25 in return for the keys to the college, has been taken to his home in Floyd county. His wound is not serious. It is in the left shoulder. Another young man, William Byrd, who was accused by Williams of being his accomplice, was shown to have no connection whatever with the affair, college officials say, and he was completely exonerated. His home is in Williamsburg. This lad is said to have proved an exceptionally good character. The college officials say a mistake was made in suspecting or apprehending Byrd.

Congressman Cantrill in speech urged Congress to appropriate $20,000,000 in grain and other food supplies for starving Russians.

BEREA STARTS DRIVE FOR MILLION

Great Institution Needs Immediate Fund To Help It Keep Up Work

(By Associated Press)
Berea, Ky., Dec. 17—Increase in the maximum salary of $2,000 a year paid to full professors and in the pay of assistant professors and teachers, and the meeting of immediate needs of the institution and pupils, are the aims of a campaign now under way to raise $1,000,000 for Berea College an institution founded solely for the education of "American Highlanders" from the Southern States. The fund known as "Berea College Necessity Fund" is being raised under the direction of officials and alumni of the institution with the advice of an advisory board consisting of notable men and women from all parts of the United States.

Berea was founded in 1855 for the purpose of providing education for mountaineers of Kentucky, Tennessee, Virginia, West Virginia, Georgia, Alabama and North and South Carolina. It has never charged students any tuition and even in the present days of high prices board is provided for students at $2.75 week, and it is said that students can live at the college nine months for $150, which it is possible for him to earn $50 by working ten hours a week on the college farm. Twenty per cent of the students earn all of their expenses and another 20 per cent use summer earnings for school purposes. Fifty-seven per cent of the remainder are partly self-sustaining. There were 2,584 students in Berea College last year.

Berea provides training of all kinds. The mountain boy or girl can come to the school and learn farming, nursing, woodworking and in fact, anything that is of use in normal life. The college department trains teachers who expect to work in mountain schools.

According to Marshall E. Vaughn, secretary of the college, Berea has been financed during the past twenty-eight years entirely by the personal solicitation of funds by former President William Goodell Frost and one or two associates. During that time forty-five new buildings have been added and the student body increased from 354 to 2,675, and the number of workers and teachers from 23 to 143. The cost of educating each student is $14.50 a year more than he pays and this year more than 500 students were turned away. Several old stores are used to house different departments and the women's gymnasium formerly was a barn. Dormitory space is also needed.

The campaign has been endorsed by President Harding. The Advisory Committee consists of the following men and women: Gov. Henry J. Allen, of Kansas; James M. Beck, New York; Albert J. Beveridge, Indiana; the Rev. Nehemiah Boynton, Brooklyn; Miss Belle H. Bennett, Richmond, Ky.; William Jennings Bryan, Lincoln, Neb.; John W. Davis, Clarksburg, W. Va.; Dr. Charles W. Elliott, Cambridge, Mass.; the Rev. George A. Gordon, Boston, Mass.; Miss Caroline Hazard, Peacedale, R. I.; Luke Lea, Nashville, Tenn.; Medill McCormick, Chicago; Gov. Edwin P. Morrow, Frankfort; the Rt. Rev. William T. Manning, New York; Lieut. Col. Theodore Roosevelt, Washington; Oscar S. Straus, New York; Chief Justice William Howard Taft, Washington; the Rt. Rev. Charles D. Williams, Detroit, Mich.; the Rev. Cornelius Woelfkin, New York, and Daniel B. Wentz, Philadelphia.

William J. Hutchins is president of Berea College.

Subscription Campaign Ends

The big subscription campaign which has been conducted by the Daily Register for the past several weeks, ended Friday. It was successful beyond expectations. Just about 1,500 new subscribers were added to the Daily Register subscription list and many old subscribers took occasion to pay up in advance to help some of their friends. The Daily Register hopes that every worker is satisfied; if not, she will be, by coming to the Daily Register office Monday or Tuesday and making her complaint known. Mr. H. Mathews, the manager who handled the campaign so successfully, will be here a day or two longer and will be glad to explain anything that is not understood by anyone.

Why the Burley Association Will Not Fail In Its Work

Nothing could be a surer guarantee of the success of the Burley Tobacco Growers' Co-operative Association than the type of men who were chosen as officers and directors. These men are not the kind who fail at anything to which they set their hands. And with such men at the helm there can be no such word as fail. A writer in the Stanford Journal gives a brief outline of each of the directors and officers, which the Daily Register can endorse personally in the case of Mr. Burnam, our director, and many others. Madison really claims two members, as Jim Stone is a native of this county and still is proud to call it his old home.

Mr. Stone is connected with a number of large business concerns in Lexington. He is the owner of several farms, is one of the large tobacco growers of Fayette county, director of the Fayette National Bank, director of the Phoenix Hotel Company, director of the Kentucky Steel Products Company, president of the Lexington Tobacco Board of Trade and has been vice chairman of the organization committee and one of the leading workers in the movement for the co-operative marketing association.

Samuel Clay, of Paris, is a banker, and one of Bourbon county's leading farmers and tobacco raisers. He was county chairman of the Burley organization in Bourbon during the campaign.

Clifford L. Walters is one of Shelby's big farmers. He was vice-chairman in Shelby county during the organization campaign and, as Chairman B. A. Thomas was not able to give much time to the work, most of the work of the campaign fell upon Mr. Walters' capable shoulders.

James N. Kehoe, of Maysville, is a banker, warehouseman, farmer and tobacco grower. He served the people of the Ninth Kentucky district for several terms as Congressman and is an able lawyer, though he has not practiced that profession for some years, giving all his time to his business interests, including the bank of which he is president.

Sheriff Frank V. Kinnelley, of Scott county, is a prominent tobacco grower and farmer and one of the most popular men in the county. His term as sheriff expires January 1.

O. C. Ellis, of Ripley, Ohio, is one of the largest land-owners and tobacco growers in Brown county.

Everett McClure, of Aurora, Indiana, was one of the leaders in his state in the old burley pool. He is one of the leading farmers of southern Indiana.

John B. Winn is one of Woodford county's leading farmers and tobacco raisers.

P. B. Gaines, of Carrollton, is the largest landowner in Carroll county and a big tobacco raiser.

H. K. Bourne, of New Castle, is a farmer, tobacco grower and leading lawyer in Henry county. He led the campaign in his county for the organization with such ability that the county, which at first was indifferent, became one of the leading counties in the movement.

Dawson Chambers, of Kenton county, is a farmer and a leader in all kinds of movements in northern Kentucky of interest to the farmer.

Rev. J. R. Jones, of Cynthiana, is the only minister of the gospel on the board. He is also president of a warehouse company at Cynthiana and is connected with a bank. Incidentally he led the campaign in his county with such skill and diplomacy as to bring into the organization almost every farmer in Harrison county.

Carroll D. Asbury, of Augusta, is a leading farmer and tobacco raiser of Bracken county and a warehouseman.

J. H. Sontley, of Flemingsburg, is proud that he is a "dirt" farmer. He is one of Fleming's largest landowners and tobacco raisers.

William H. Shanks, of Stanford, is president of a bank, a farmer and tobacco raiser, and has been prominent in democratic politics in Kentucky, having been the nominee of his party for lieutenant governor in 1919. He is a man of wide influence in his section of the state.

Bush W. Allin, of Harrodsburg, is a landowner, tobacco raiser and cashier of one of Harrodsburg's leading financial institutions. He also was county chairman in his county during the preliminary organization campaign.

Judge I. H. Thurman, of Springfield, served several terms as circuit judge of his judicial district, is one of the state's leading lawyers and is widely known throughout Kentucky. He is a landowner and tobacco grower, besides.

Thompson S. Burnam, of Richmond, is a banker and landowner and a gentleman of the old school of the South. He was county chairman in Madison during the preliminary period of organization of the association and handled

When cashing-in on mistletoe.

A Dream Came True

For side-wall illumination the scone which adorned the chimney-piece of our grandmother has again found favor, but instead of tallow-dips they are equipped with candle-like electric bulbs which lend a soft, safe light and add materially to the beauty of the room.

For central illumination the candelabra of our grandparents which faintly lighted home interiors and cast shadows of imaginative portent have now been replaced by electrical fixtures of pleasing and harmonious design—to give adequate light.

These facts she knew. She had wished so hard and so often silently and almost hopelessly for new electrical fixtures to replace the unsightly brackets and jets that the receipt of scones and fixture on Christmas morning was like a dream come true.

Perhaps you, too, have someone in your home who is wishing "her" dream would come true. It would cost very little to make her wish a reality.

This is Santa Claus' headquarters for electrical fixtures in many substantial designs, at agreeable prices. At your service.

It is a visualization of Windham Martin's famous novel, "The Secret of the Silver Car," and offers Earle Williams an exceptionally fine role in which he can display his versatility.

The entire cast is made up of the same strong caliber which has characterized the Earle Williams' productions. Such names as Geoffrey Webb, Eric Mayne, Emmett King, Mona Lisa, John Stepping, Max Asher and Walter Rodgers are to be found in the cast.

MOTHER GAVE IT

Virginia Lady Suffered With Aches and Pains Until Mother Began Giving Her Cardui.

Dublin, Va.—Miss Mary Allen, residing on Route 2, near here, recently told a visitor of her interesting experience with Cardui. Miss Allen said: "I had been suffering for some time with painful... I was pale, didn't feel like going. Would just drag around, and couldn't rest to do any good. I would suffer once a month with my back, sides and head. My limbs would ache and I didn't know what to do, but I knew I must do something, for I didn't get well by letting it run on."

"My mother is a believer in Cardui, for she saw what it did for others as well as herself, so she began giving it to me."

"It wasn't long before I saw a change. It was just what I needed. It regulated me. I began to eat and sleep, and the pain stopped."

"Cardui is without doubt the best female tonic made, and I am glad I can recommend it to others."

If suffering with symptoms such as Miss Allen mentions, or other ailments peculiar to women, why not begin Cardui at once? Its merit is well established by successful use for more than 40 years.

BEND

On December 14th Rex, the noted bird dog owned by William Hill, of College Hill, died. He was known far and wide as the best dog for hunting and setting birds. All hunters were desirous of securing Rex when coming from a distance, knowing that if there were any birds, Rex would soon locate them. Rex had passed the 12th milestone in life when death came. Mr. Hill declares he had done some of the best work of his life just previous to his death that he had ever been known to do. When found, just after a hard day's work, he was in the position of setting a flock of birds. He was laid to rest on the hill overlooking the fields where he had enjoyed setting birds so often. A plain stone marks the last resting place. He has gone to the happy hunting ground, where all good dogs go.

BEAUTY AND COMFORT UNITED IN LATEST CORSET DESIGNS

Beauty with comfort is the keynote of the last word from American corsetry. New spring designs, showing in New York strikingly demonstrate the influence of the past season upon the makers of milady's figure, and bespeak the coming of a garment in entire harmony with the program of the new woman of today.

Sufficient support for the abdominal region to prevent undue fatigue, a graceful shaping of the hips, and a pronounced but nevertheless extremely comfortable waist-line contour, are embodied in the new American creations, all of which closely follow the Paris exhibit. Because many of the new models are low cut, brassieres are in prominence, these, too, having been re-modelled to meet the new requirements of the American woman, whose counterpart, from the standpoint of physical activity—and, of course, usefulness—is not to be found elsewhere on earth.

The gentle but none the less firm rejection by the American woman of the morally questionable and hygienically impoverishing "corsetless fad," which for a time, fought for recognition in the east following its importation from the Paris Barbary Coast, has strengthened the faith of the corsetier in his clientele, and has sent him back rejoicingly to his hly-painting task of embellishing and preserving the beauty of Miss America.

New Light on Batteries

"Since all batteries look so much alike on the outside, how am I going to tell which one has the most value inside?"

That is a practical every-day question—and it has a simple every-day answer.

What greater assurance could you possibly have than the following combination of facts:

- 1—Extraordinary quality in the battery itself, as shown by the choice of the Willard Thru-Rubber Battery as standard equipment by the manufacturers of 173 makes of cars and trucks.
- 2—A nation-wide organization to serve you.
- 3—A record for quality and service dating back nearly to the beginning of the automobile.

You don't need a formal invitation. Come in any old time and get some new light on this battery question.

Coal Mine Over Coal Mine

(By Associated Press)

Providence, Ky., Dec. 17—A coal mine over a coal mine, each operated by different companies, soon will be an actuality here. An Alabama company has leased 300 acres of land from the Diamond Coal Company and instead of sinking a shaft to reach the first vein of coal will use gigantic steam shovels to strip off the surface of the ground and to take out the coal which lies near the surface. It is said that the operation of the surface company will not disturb that of the owning company which is digging coal at a considerable depth under the surface.

GIRLS WIN BUT MADISON BOYS LOSE

Madison Hi and Winchester City Hi split even in doubleheader basketball games at the Madison gym Friday night, the girls of Madison winning by a score of 11 to 8, while the local boys were defeated to a 19 to 16 tune.

Girls' Game

The girls of both teams fought hard throughout the game, the Winchester fair ones leading at the close of the first half. Defeat seemed almost certain for the Purple and White five but they rallied in the last half and finally after brilliant playing, managed to administer to Winchester a bitter pill. Miss Lucia Bennett again led the local girls in scoring, collecting two field goals during the game. She played fine at all stages of the game and covered the floor with much skill. Miss Bennett's field goals toward the last of the game and the one by Miss Blanton following it sealed the doom for the Clark county feminine invaders.

Miss Yates at center and Miss Terrill at guard played fast games on the floor. Through Miss Terrill the Winchester attack was stopped to nothing in the last half. This is the Madison girl's second win of the season, having already beaten the Eastern Normal team. The line up:

Madison 11 Winchester 8
Blanton 2 ----- Rupart 6
Yates 3 ----- Gilbert 2
Myers ----- Swanson
Terrill ----- Royce
Referee—Stone.

Substitutes—Jackson for Swanson; Swanson for Jackson; and Hemphill for Swanson.

Boys' Game

Superior pass work was the cause for the Madison boys defeat in the second game at the hands of Winchester. From the start the Winchester five tossed the ball around the local basket-ers with ease. Madison also showed some good pass work in spots but did not get the ball within close enough distance to the goal in the first half to be accurate as possible. Two field goals in rapid succession by Mahoney and Haley toward the last of the contest were enough to beat the locals.

At the start of the second half fine pass work enabled Madison to take the lead. The pass weaver died out with the wind, however. These two passes ended with the ball in Talton Stone's hands. Both times he made fine shots in caging the baskets.

The work of Hurst, Clouse and Harry Stone, kept the Winchester score from mounting higher. These lads broke up pass after pass and returned the ball to their own territory. Hurst, the south-paw, made it his specialty in breaking up the Winchester pass just before they could try for the basket. His left hand shots to his own territory were also true. Clouse and H. Stone came in for their part of the grand defense work displayed by Madison. Both games were as close as possible and the fans got their money's worth by attending the games. Madison has no more games booked until after the holidays. The line-up:

Madison 16 Winchester 10
T. Stone 12 ----- Alberts 4
H. Stone ----- Hanay 6
Reeves 2 ----- David
Hurst ----- fg ----- Mahoney 5
Clouse 2 ----- lg ----- Webb 4
Referee—Stone.
